The foundation and the economic blueprint of the family that today control the world economy was laid back in 740 A.D from humble beginnings by one man. He would not live to see this dynasty usurp the wealth of the world, which (the wealth) they would finance through the vast riches they accumulate as they usurp the wealth of the world by gaining control of the world's money supply. The past is the past, the history is history, if you've got the determination, why don't you use it to do better instead of feeling guilty for the past -Wan Mun Chian. Ba Ga Mohlala is one of the biggest families in South Africa in terms of numbers. We should be capitalizing on our numbers as a family and spending more energy in economic development or at least building economic foundation for ourselves (as a family) and future generations. Instead we are too captured by companies and corporates and we are not interested in development of our family (communities). Our bellies and individual family purses are content with what is, we are content with the bread crumbs that we get from the corporates and business word after selling our labour to them instead of shaping our future and/or shaping the future of our next generations. Yes, organizing a family as big as ours into one single (business) mind is the most difficult job to do, but even if we do not achieve that (our aims) in our life time, let us lay now, a solid foundation upon which our future family generations can build on -ROME WAS NOT BUILD IN ONE DAY, AND ALSO, THE MIGHTY EGYPTION EMPIRE TOOK GENERATIONS (DYNASTIES) AND CENTURIESTO BUILD. Otherwise we will remain unprogressive and poor for years and generations to come, and our kids and our future generations will find nothing to inherit because we fail to learn even the simplest of lessons, all we are good at is to consume and not create or preserve wealth. We are not properly involved in the value chain to create sustainable wealth. Ours is to support and consume goods from companies and corporations we do not have stake in, whereas we can use our family collective power to play real beneficial part in the supply chain. *****HOPE THIS WILL START TO MAKE US THINK AND ACT !!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!UNITY IS POWER !!!!!!!WE HAVE NUMBERS AND NUMBERS TRANSLATE TO POWER AS LONG AS WE HAVE UNITY OF PURPOSE...." ....."
